ASTIGMATISM.

What it is, and How Corrected.

A tigmat'sm or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the film known as the Cornea. Of course no in-trument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent Eye specialist the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye in a way that nothing else can. If your eyes need attention have DR. J. T. JOHNSON to put them under this wonderful instrument. Office hours 8:30 to 12:30; 2 to 6. 302½ S. Elm St.

AN ENCOURAGING OPENING.

Large Congregation at E. L and S.S. Services Last Night.

The fourth annual conference of the Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues of the Western North Carolina conference opened in West Market Street church last night. The large auditorium was well filled, and the opening meeting was a glorious one. The interest and enthusiasm were encouraging, the people of the city showing a strong desire to make it the most successful conference yet held. L. W. Crawford, Jr., of this city, presided, and the meeting opened with a twenty minutes song service, the large congregation joining heartily in every song. At the conclusion of the singing Rev. J. A. B. Fry led in a fervent prayer.

Prof. P. P. Claxton delivered the address of welcome, making one of the most thoughtful and interesting speeches it has ever been our pleasure to hear. With beautiful ideas, clothed in the most fitting English, the broad-minded and eloquent educator made the delegates feel warmly welcome in the "City of Flowers." His speech was a gem. In the absence of Rev. T. F. Marr, who was to have delivered the response, Rev. G. H. Detwiler was introduced, and responded to Prof. Claxton in a most pleasant manner. He then introduced Dr. H. M. DuBose, editor of the Epworth Era, and one of the brightest men in the Southern Methodist conference. Dr. DuBose made an interesting talk. His heart is in the work, and no one is better fitted to talk to Epworth Leaguers than he. After his address, Mr. C. H. Ireland made an informal but timely and interesting speech, assuring the delegates of a hearty welcome, and urging every one to make themselves at home in the church. The services were then concluded and the meeting ended with a reception, giving the delegates and home-folk an opportunity to become acquainted.

TODAY'S MEETINGS.

The meeting this morning opened with devotional services conducted by Rev. J. B. Tabor. After this there were short reports from Epworth Leaguers by delegates. Mr. Ethyl Harris, of Hickory, read an interesting and very creditable paper, taking the place of Rev. E. L. Bain, who was to have made a talk.

Rev. H. C. Sprinkle spoke on the best methods of increasing the attendance, Miss Grace Vandiver on the importance of good music, Rev. E. K. McLarty on how to get the greatest number to take part in the meetings, Miss Minnie Clark on the discouragements, and Rev. C. M. Pickens on the encouragements. All the talks were very good and interesting.

Rev. Dan Atkins, D. D., formerly editor of the North Carolina Christian advocate, now of Asheville, made a splendid talk, which was eagerly listened to by the congregation.

The meeting this afternoon was opened by a prayer and praise service conducted by Rev. P. J. Carraway. A number of able ministers, young ladies and gentlemen made interesting and instructive talks on different subjects.

TONIGHT'S MEETING

will open with a devotional service, conducted by Rev. Dr. Frank H. Wood, after which one-minute reports from leagues by delegates will be heard. Drs. J. J. Wrenn and J. H. Weaver will deliver addresses, and Rev. G. H. Detwiler will speak on the "Epworth League in the Twentieth Century Movement."

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

Six of the Old Board and Six New Men Chosen.

The democratic primaries passed off quietly last night, the contests all being most friendly. The following were chosen as the democratic candidates for aldermen of the city of Greensboro to be voted on at the election next Monday.

CHIEF AGUINALDO WEAKENS.

The Insurgents Make Formal Offer of Peace.

OTIS SENDS A STERN REPLY.

The American Government at Washington is Delighted at the Turn Affairs Have Taken.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, April 28 -The World special edition says: A dispatch was received in this city early this morning saying that Gen. Luna, the commander-in-chief of the Filipino army, has sent an insurgent colonel through the lines, under a flag of truce, to ask for a cessation of hostilities.

THE JOURNAL'S DISPATCH.

New York, April 28—A special to the Journal from Manila says that the insurgent forces under Gen. Luna have surrendered. The result of the surrender is the practical ending of the resolution, as Gen. Luna has long been regarded as the head and front of the Filipinos movement. There is great jubilation among the American officers and troops, especially the volunteers, who are convinced that the end of war is at hand, and they will soon be allowed to return to their homes. The surrender includes practically all of the Filipino forces against whom McArthur has been operating with such dashing success for the last few weeks.

The officers who arranged for the surrender in behalf of Gen. Luna were Col Arguilles, chief of staff and Lieut Jose Bernel. They were admitted through the lines under a flag of truce and at once interviewed Gen. Otis, making a formal offer of surrender.

FULL SURRENDER OF FORCES.

Manila, April 28—Further details state that Col. Arguiles said that he was empowered with a request from Gen. Luna for a cessation of hostilities, pending negotiations looking to a settlement of the war. McArthur complied with the request pending instructions from Otis. A full surrender of the insurgent forces followed.

PEACE ADVANCE FRUITLESS.

Manila, April 28 (afternoon) -The Filipino advance of peace seems to be fruitless. Col. Arguilles and Lieut. Jose Bernel came through McArthur's lines under a flag of truce and told Otis they were representatives of Gen. Luna, who had been requested by Aguinaldo to ask for a cessation of hostilities in order to allow time for the summoning of the Filipino congress, which body would decide whether the people wanted peace. Otis replied that he did not recognize the existence of the Filipino government. There will be another conference tomorrow.

CABLE FROM OTIS.

Washington, April 28—The following cable was received at the war department from Otis today:

"McArthur, after taking Calumpit, crossed the Rio Grande in the face of great obstacles, driving the concentrated forces of the enemy back on the railroad for a distance of two miles. McArthur reports that the passage of the river was a remarkable military achievement, success being due the daring skill and determination of Col. Funston, under the discriminating control of Gen. Wheaton. The casualties were light. This morning the chief of staff of the commanding general of the insurgents entered our lines. He expressed admiration at the wonderful feat of forcing a passage of the river, which was thought by the rebels to be impossible. The staff officer reports that the insurgent commander has received directions from the insurgent government to suspend hostilities pending a termination of the war. The staff officer is now en route to Manila and will arrive soon. The war department officials are highly gratified at Otis' news.

While fully believing in the good faith of the rebel offers, it is thought that Otis will not consider any peace offers until the insurgents lay down their arms and surrender unconditionally.

MCKINLEY'S CONGRATULATIONS.

Philadelphia, April 28—Immediately upon receiving Otis' dispatch the president sent the following message to the American commander at Manila:

"Your message announcing the achievements of McArthur's division and the proposal of insurgents for suspension of hostilities, is most gratifying. Convey to the officers and men my heartfelt congratulations and gratitude for their signal gallantry and triumph.

(Signed) Wm. McKinley."

THE LATEST.

New York, April 28—A cablegram to the World from Frederick Palmer at Manila says that the Filipinos have not surrendered, and that there is no cessation of hostilities as yet.

New Yorkers have subscribed over $5000 for the family of Elevatorman Warren Guion, who perished while saving lives at the Hotel Windsor fire.

AN OPEN LETTER.

Mr. R. D. Douglas Resigns as Member of Dispensary Board.

Mr. Editor:—I am a republican, and have no apology to make for my political creed.

I went into the dispensary movement in good faith, as I then believed it and still believe it to be a good institution. I was elected a member of the dispensary board, and intended to act as such, but I acted entirely as a private individual. I did not do it at the request of my party, nor in the interest of my party.

Many people have recently tried to make it appear that I acted officially for my party and thereby pledged it to the support of the dispensary. This is absolutely untrue.

My party, so far as I know, had nothing whatever, as a party, to do with the movement. It certainly did not dictate my course.

I do not wish to place any party or individual in a false light by any action of mine, and hence while still favoring the dispensary and feeling deeply grateful to those who showed their confidence in me, by electing me to the question, I think it best to have no official connection with the dispensary.

And inasmuch as many people in the city of Greensboro seem to think they are disgraced by having a republican elected to office in their city, I do not intend to burden them with my official presence, and hereby announce that I shall not serve as a member of the board. Robert D. Douglas.

Will Locate Here.

The Telegram learns with pleasure that Mr. Irving E. Avery, of Morganton, will locate in Greensboro and open a bureau of newspaper correspondence. He is a bright young man, with experience in the work, having filled the place of Col. Fred A. Olds, of Raleigh, while the latter was on a vacation in Cuba a short while ago. Mr. Avery is the son of ex-Judge A. C. Avery, of Morganton. The Telegram extends him a warm welcome and hopes that his work may prove profitable both to himself and Greensboro.

He went to Charlotte this morning to remain until Monday.

Successful Demonstration.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, April 28—The first practical demonstration of wireless telegraphy was made here this morning. A passing vessel struck Goodwin sands, and telegraphed for assistance, which was sent.

Another Victim of the Mob Law.

Leesburg, Ga., April 27—The body of Mitchell Daniel, a negro, was found in the road near here today, riddled with bullets. Daniel was one of the negroes who recently made inflammatory talks against a family named Laramore, charging them with complicity in a lynching. Three negroes recently tried to force an entrance into the room occupied by Mrs. Laramore. Her screams brought help and they ran away, but dogs trailed them home. Daniel was supposed to be implicated, and his killing probably resulted from this.

In the case of John M. Maxwell against Actor Nat C. Goodwin, for alleged literary piracy, the verdict for $10,000 was set aside at Chicago, Ill., yesterday, and a new trial granted.

CAPT. COGHLAN CAN'T COME

To North Carolina With the Cruiser Raleigh,

OWING TO HIS BANQUET SPEECH.

He Has Been Reprimanded by the President and by the Navy Department.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, April 28—An echo of the Phœnix, S. C., election riots, in which the Tolbert family figured so prominently, will shortly be heard at Greenville. One of the members of the Tolbert family, James W. Tolbert, postmaster at McCormick, has brought action against several prominent citizens, whom he charges with having threatened him, and conspired to prevent him from attending to his duties as postmaster.

Although James W. Tolbert is a federal official, holding the position of postmaster at the postoffice department, so far as can be ascertained, it is not believed that they are behind him in this contemplated prosecution. Several of the postoffice officials who have been seen deny that they are in any way connected with the case, and they say that Tolbert is prosecuting it at his own instance. Officials at the department of justice also assert that the federal authorities are not back of the Tolbert case, and that the government at Washington has nothing to do with the prosecution. The trial of the case comes before the United States court, which is now in session at Greenville.

South Carolina people coming to Washington say that the contested election case of R. H Tolbert is being conducted very quietly, and but little is heard in the state about it. Tolbert, during the last session of congress, and since congress adjourned, has been frequently in Washington trying to interest congressmen on the republican side in his case, but did not meet with any great success. When in Washington the last time, however, he stated that he would push his contest, and that he hoped to get sufficient evidence to enable him to get a favorable hearing before the election committee of the house of representatives.

Much interest is felt in the Baltimore city election. The election occurs next Tuesday, and strict party lines have been drawn. The indications, according to Baltimore people coming to Washington, point to democratic success, and it looks as if the bulk of the independent vote, which is the deciding factor in Baltimore city elections would go this year for the democratic candidate. A gentleman from Paltimore who was in the city yesterday stated that the people of the city had grown tired of republican rule, and would get back into the democratic column. He says that in the event that Baltimore goes against the republicans next Tuesday that it will practically assure the election of the democratic candidate for governor in November, and that his name will be Hayes. He thinks it will also put Maryland in the democratic column in 1900.

Much regret is felt among southern people over the fact that Captain Coghlan, of the cruiser Raleigh, will not accompany his vessel on its trip to Wilmington, North Carolina, and Charleston, South Carolina. There has been much desire among the people of these two cities to personally see this distinguished officer who commanded so successfully the Raleigh in the eastern cruise, and it is greatly regretted that the action taken by the president and the navy department in reprimanding the officer, should also deprive them of this pleasure.

The Atlantic Coast Line, and other railroads, are offering a low rate of fare to the Confederate reunion at Charleston, tickets for the round trip being offered at the rate of $11.55. Many Ex-Confederates from this section will attend.

Judge and Mrs. Day, who have just returned from Asheville, acting under the directions of his physicians, will return again to the mountains of North Carolina, instead of proceeding to Ohio. The ex-secretary will spend some time fishing in the state.

Postmasters have been commissioned in North Carolina as follows: Sarah E. Green, Aho; Stephen E. W. Clifton, Parkton and Minnie L. Sykes, Rockspring.

Among North Carolina people in Washington are Messrs. E. J. Justice, of Marion, J. A. Long, of Wilson.

The First National Congress of the Christian Church is in session at St Louis, Mo, with about 200 ministers present.

We've got a pair for every baby and little girl in the city; cute little sandals and oxfords in tan, chocolate and black kid and patent leather. People who look around and know what they are talking about say Thacker & Brockman carry the largest and best assortment of infants' and children's shoes in the city.

THE CORRECT VIEW.

The Richmond Times, which rarely takes the wrong side of a question, published an editorial yesterday on the recent lawlessness in Georg a that is very pleasingly different from the storm of censure that is being hurled at Georgia from all over the north and the south, and which is certainly, to our mind, the correct view of the question. Commenting on the text, "The South Will Suffer Most," propounded by a western paper, the Times says:

"Undoubtedly so, and that fact arouses all the more our indignation against those worthless negroes who provoke the people of the south to lawlessness. As if it were not bad enough to contend with the negro voter and the negro criminal who will not govern himself, the south must also suffer from the lawlessness which these wretched creatures provoke.

"The Times is no more concerned for the venal negro voter than it is for the negro rapist. We do not think that the venal negro voter deserves to vote any more than we think that the negro rapist deserves to live. We are concerned for the integrity and good name of the south, for clean politics and for law and order. Had the negro voters not been forced upon us after the war our people had not resorted to ballot box stuffing. The southern people are by nature honest and high minded and above such low-down business as ballot box stuffing and stealing votes, but they felt that any measure which would prevent negro carpet-bag rule was justifiable, and so having fallen into a vice—justifiable as they believed—it is now hard to prevent those who were employed to do this thing from keeping at their old tricks Nor are the southern people naturally riotous and lawless. They are a peaceable people, an amiable people, a people who have respect for the authorities and the institutions of government. But, above all, they are a chivalrous people. They love and honor their women, and when a brute lays violent hands upon a southern woman the chivalrous men of the south are aroused to frenzy. And so the negro brutes provoke them to take the law into their own hands, and not only to slay, but to torture as a warning to others like-minded."

The best element of the southern people and the hoodlum that constitutes the dangerous mobs disagree in the disposition of the brute who has offended, only in the manner. They both want swift vengeance meted out to the scoundrel. But the one wants a legalized killing, the other trusts not to the erring law.

The barbarous acts of the mobs are bringing a blot upon the good name of the south, but we fear that if our escutchion is to be kept spotless at the price of fiendish brutes going unhung, then it must remain stained.

The white people have in their power a remedy as have also the colored people. If our legislatures would devise a scheme whereby these people could be assured of a quick trial and a trial just to the welfare of society as well as to the culprit, we believe the problem would be solved.

And the other remedy, if the colored man wants to live among us in peace and happiness, let him live according to law, and the law will protect him in all of his rights.

Old Man Joe Wheeler is a brave old soul. He has been through two or three wars unhurt, and now in the evening of his life one would naturally think he desired some quiet, sequestered spot in which to dream away the remainder of his checkered carcer in ease, waiting for the summons. But that ain't him. Bless your life, he's going to start to the Philippines in a few days to enter active service.

Admiral Kautz is another one of the boys who seem to be afflicted with the American "weakness." His egotistical letter home, closely following the Coghlan incident, is another stunner to the Kaiser's vanity. The German ambassador will wear out his shoes trotting to receive McKinley's apologies if he will keep his ear open.

If Aguinaldo doesn't like the manner in which the five American forces are closing in upon his army, he can jump it.

A Sarcastic Congressman.

Ex-President Benjamin Harrison at a banquet told the following story on himself:

"Judge Martindale has recalled the time when I was the very youngest and very smallest elder, which reminds me of an occurrence at Washington when a number of very anomalous bills for public improvements were introduced I decided to veto some of them. I remember that there was a New York representative who had an interest in an appropriation of $250,000 for a public building on the Hudson. A friend learned from him that it had been vetoed. 'See the president,' suggested his friend. The representative responded that that was his intention, and next day went to the White House, where he was informed by the secretary that the president could not be seen. 'Good gracious!' exclaimed the representative. 'Has he got so small as that?' "

Cornish Diamonds.

"Please God," said Aunt Mary Bunny, "if I live till this evenin and all's well I'll send for the doctor."

"I shan't name no names," said Uncle Billy, "but Jack Tremenheere's the man."

John Carter, the famous smuggler of Porthleah, went throughout Cornwall by the name of the King of Prussia. A Mousehole man, on hearing news of the real king of Prussia's defeat at Jena, remarked. "Misfortunes never come single. I'm sorry for that man. Not more'n six weeks ago he lost 300 keg o' brandy, by information, so I'm towld."

All the crew had been saved, but one poor fellow was brought ashore unconscious. The curate turned to the bystanders:

"How do you proceed in the case of one apparently drowned?"

"S'arch his pockets."—Cornish Magazine.

Willow Baskets.

The question is sometimes asked why some willow baskets soon become brown and discolored while others keep white so much longer Those that discolor are made from willow from which the bark has been removed by steaming. The imported baskets, made where labor is not such a big factor in cost, are woven from willows that have been peeled with knives, and these hold their clean white color to the close of their existence, which is a much longer period than that of the domestic product. If one only knew how to distinguish "t'other from which," now!

True Greatness.

The fellow who dwells within his little eight by ten creed can see the whole thing at a glance, but the man on the high hill of truth realizes there is much that lies beyond the range of his vision and the power of his comprehension.—L. A. W Bulletin.

I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise recently, which leads me to write this. Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well: now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

THE FLAG OF STARS.

Oh, not alone the eager south—
Alone the steadfast north—
Saw with wet eyes beneath spring skies
Our flag of stars go forth!
Oh, not alone the elder east,
Nor the young hearted west,
Smiled high with pride where side by side
The nation's children pressed!

But north and south and east and west
The mountain and the plain,
The prairie and the desert,
Yielded their flower again.
East and west and south and north
The flower of the land,
Hearing the mother's call, went forth
To stand at her right hand.

We be many hands in labor,
But one arm for the right;
One blood to shed, one heart till dead,
One good sword for the fight;
We be many tongued and minded,
But one mind and one tongue
When once wide sent through a continent
The nation's word has rung!

Then northern tongues sing "Dixie"
Beneath the ancient flag,
And the southerner dies to rebaptize
His own the "Yankee rag!"
Brothers—to keep for freedom's sake
The flag of stars unfurled
Beneath the stars of heaven—to make
The starlight of the world!

A LESSON IN COOKING.

How a Hobo Served Up a Dish of Roast Chicken.

"The first time I ran away from home I learned a trick or two that was worth the while," said a well known business man. "I started out on several unauthorized tours of adventure before I reached years of discretion, but the first is most vividly impressed upon my memory. Three of us kids caught a freight train and got some 60 or 70 miles away from home before the first nightfall. Then we didn't know where to spend the night. Several attempts to quarter ourselves in empty box cars on the side track of a little village only resulted in our being chased away and threatened with arrest, so we went to the outskirts of the place and built a fire on the bank of a little creek. Here we made ourselves as comfortable as possible and one or two of us had actually dozed off for short naps when a regular hobo, a good specimen of the real article, happened along and wanted to know if we had anything to eat. Of course we hadn't.

"'Well,' he said, 'if you fellers'll ketch a chicken I'll show you a trick that'll be useful to you.'

"It didn't take us long to catch the chicken and bring it back. The veteran member of the nomadic fraternity wrung its neck, jerked off its head, cleaned it and going down to the creek wadded it up, feathers, feet and all, in a big ball of yellow clay. This he rolled into the fire and scraped the burning embers up around it. The clay soon hardened, and we could see it among the wood coals gradually becoming a bright cherry red. When it did so, the cook rolled it out again, let it cool a little and then broke it open with a stone. The feathers had stuck to the baked clay and a clean, inviting chicken was ready to be served. All the moisture that in ordinary baking is lost had been kept in by the bricklike inclosure, and the morsel that fell to my lot was the juiciest and sweetest I have ever eaten."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

His Absent Companions.

At a banquet given in Rochester two of the expected guests were unable to be present. The order of seating happened to be such that a particularly jovial and companionable gentleman sat with one of the vacant chairs on each side of him. The empty chairs and first course of oysters were left in place for some time in case the expected guests arrived. The solitary gentleman therefore could move neither to the right nor to the left, but amiably beamed throughout the repast, seemingly none the worse for his enforced isolation. After the banquet some one innocently asked him:

"How did you enjoy yourself, old chap?"

"First rate," he replied briskly enough. "I sat next to a couple of fellows who weren't there."—Rochester Herald.

The Managed Husband Is Worthless.

Helen Watterson Moody believes that the husband who can be managed is not worth managing, "and there is no better principle," she adds, in The Ladies' Home Journal, "for both husband and wife to adopt in adjusting themselves to the new relation than that of trying to do each by the other what men are accustomed to call 'the square thing.' Many a woman understands 'managing' a husband better than she does doing the square thing by him, and many a man understands and practices doing the square thing by other men who would be affronted if he were to be told that, judged by his own business standards, he habitually dealt unfairly with his own wife."

Mrs. Watkins' Club Inheritance.

"I don't see," said Mr. Mulberry, "why you women have that Mrs. Watkins in your literary club. The rest of you are bright enough, but she's as dull as dull can be."

"It's this way," answered Mrs. Mulberry. "Mrs. Watkins' great-grandmother's half sister's second cousin by marriage could trace her descent from Chaucer. So, you see, after all, with such literary claims, we couldn't very well leave Mrs. Watkins out."—Harper's Bazar.

A Candid Suitor.

"What do you think? Papa asked Jack if he expected to get any money in marrying me."

"Was Jack insulted?"

"Insulted? He told pop that a good home was more of an object to him than wages."—Detroit Free Press.

Brass and Iron Bed Steads.

How many persons realize that in a small bedroom a Brass or Iron Bed does not seem more than two-thirds as large as a wooden one of the same size. Here is one great cause for the popularity of brass and iron beds. Then, too,

They Are So Airy and Open

that they afford much better ventilation. They do not enclose the sleeper with wooden walls, shutting off all circulation of air, but there is an open frame giving the utmost ventilation. All the world knows their intrinsic cleanliness. They are as neat as wax, as clean as snow. If properly lacquered they will retain their high lustre for years.

We show the largest variety of styles and designs of any house in Greensboro and our prices will be found lower for the same grade of goods.

ABSOLUTE INDEPENDENCE.

There Can Be No Rest For Cuba Without Free Government.

Havana, April 27—General Gomez has received a letter from Dr. Luis Abrisquet, of New York, informing him that certain New York newspapers say he he has favored an American protectorate over Cuba. Gomez declares that he only favors absolute Cuban independence, and that he has never uttered a single word against Cuban independence, which is his only ideal. He adds that there can be no rest in Cuba until a Cuban republic is established.

Shoots a Man Who Wronged Her.

New Orleans, April 27—W. E. Harrington was killed yesterday in jail at Leesville by Miss Mary Lacaze, whom he was charged with outraging. She went to the jail on the pretext of arranging marriage, and when she entered the cell she pulled a pistol from her bosom and shot him. She was arrested and locked up in the same jail, which is now closely guarded to prevent threatened rescue by influential relatives.

Infrequent and Improper Shampooing are responsible for dry, scrawny and variable colored hair. Many people have a goodly supply of hair, and it would be beautiful were it not that dandruff had destroyed its life and made it lustreless. Everyone's head should be shampooed once a week with some non-injurious and health-giving wash.

A SMALL SPOT MAY BE CANCER.

MOST VIOLENT CASES HAVE APPEARED AT FIRST AS MERE PIMPLES.

The greatest care should be given to any little sore, pimple or scratch which shows no disposition to heal under ordinary treatment. No one can tell how soon these will develop into Cancer of the worst type. So many people die from Cancer simply because they do not know just what the disease is; they naturally turn themselves over to the doctors, and are forced to submit to a cruel and dangerous operation—the only treatment which the doctors know for Cancer. The disease promptly returns, however, and is even more violent and destructive than before. Cancer is a deadly poison in the blood, and an operation, plaster, or other external treatment can have no effect whatever upon it. The cure must come from within—the last vestige of poison must be eradicated.

Mr. Wm. Walpole, of Walshtown, S. D., says: "A little blotch about the size of a pea came under my left eye gradually growing larger, from which shooting pains at intervals ran in all directions. I became greatly alarmed and consulted a good doctor, who pronounced it Cancer, and advised that it be cut out, but this I could not consent to. I read in my local paper of a cure effected by S. S. S. and decided to try it. It acted like a charm, the Cancer becoming at first irritated, and then discharging very freely. This gradually grew less and then discontinued altogether, leaving a small scab which soon dropped off, and now only a healthy little scar remains where what threatened to destroy my life once held full sway." Positively the only cure for Cancer is Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—because it is the only remedy which can go deep enough to reach the root of the disease and force it out of the system permanently. A surgical operation does not reach the blood—the real seat of the disease—because the blood can not be cut away. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place.

S. S. S. cures also any case of Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Ulcers, Sores, or any other form of blood disease. Valuable books on Cancer and Blood Diseases will be mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

Insurance Money Paid Promptly.

J. Sterling Jones, of the Provident Savings, is a man of business. The late W. H Branson had a policy in his company for $8,000 and the money was paid to his widow today.

As soon as proofs of death were in, Mr. Jones sent them in and the company ordered immediate payment, not waiting or claiming the 60 days allowed them.

This is the way to do business and can but be beneficial to the company and especially to Mr. Jones, who always looks out for the interests of his patrons.—Daily Record, April 25, '99

EXTRACT.

"Mr. Branson took his policy on the five year dividend plan, or rather on the five year option plan, under which no dividends are declared till the end of five years. Consequently, the amount due on his policy was only $10,000 which was paid to Mrs. Branson by our agent at Durham on yesterday."

From R. B. Raney, Raleigh, N. C., to J. H. Merritt, Greensboro, N. C., April 4th, 1899.

If the "moral" is to insure in the company which pays its claims first, then by all means, insure with J. H. Merritt, Room No. 4, Katz Building in the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Philadelphia.

THE CARTLAND CLAIMS IN THE PROVIDENT SAVINGS PAID.

We are informed the two policies, amounting to $5,000, held by the late H. H. Cartland in this company, have been paid. This is quick work, but it is an old story with the Provident. There is a moral to it—insure in the Provident if you wish to be insured. The motto of this company is, pay your premiums and they will pay the claims, and that quick.—Daily Record, April 25th.

Raleigh, N. C., April 15, 1899.

J. H. Merritt, Esq.,
Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I herewith enclose a clipping from the Greensboro Record of the 14th inst., which seems to say a great deal for Mr. Jones, who paid Mrs Branson's claim on the 14th, it seemed, when we paid ours on the 3d day of April. Will suggest that you see the editor and get him to give us a puff. I do not mean, of course, that there shall be any expense incurred with it; you probably know him well, and can get him to state the superior promptness with which our company paid their claim.

Yours very sincerely,
R. B. Raney,
General Agent.

Romantic Marriage.

Winston, N. C., April 27—A romantic marriage was celebrated here last night. The contracting parties being H. C. Stead and Miss Lillie Offerdinger, of Lynchburg, Va. There was objection to the match. A telephone message was sent to the bride's parents this morning. The couple went to Durham this morning. After a trip South they will locate at Hampton, Va.

SMART AT SPELLING.

A LESSON IN ORTHOGRAPHY THAT WAS DEARLY BOUGHT.

How a Couple of Shrewd Sharpers Won Thousands of Dollars by Working the Dictionary For Game Until They Were Brought to Grief.

"How do you spell 'choir?'" asked a man in the bookstore.

"What do you mean—paper or music?" inquired a smart young man who poses as an authority on all topics.

"Music, singing, of course," replied the man in search of orthographical information.

"C-h-o-i-r," responded the smart young man decisively.

"Q-u-i-r-e," chimed in a red bearded man who was busy looking at some books.

"You are referring to paper," said the smart young man, looking sadly at the interrupter. "We were speaking about music."

"I mean music, too," said the red bearded man calmly: "q-u-i-r-e, to sing in concert."

The smart young man's expression changed from sadness to contempt. "You had better consult your dictionary," he said with a sneer.

"Never mind," retorted the red bearded man. "My way of spelling may be a little old fashioned, but you will find it correct according to Webster. You will also find it correct according to the Century Dictionary, and if I am not mistaken it is likewise given in the Standard. Your way is all right too."

The smart young man gave a sniff of scorn. "Josh Billings and you should have collaborated on a phonetic spelling book."

"Look here," said the red bearded man, "I'll bet you $8 that Webster's latest spells it 'q-u-i-r-e.'"

"Make it $5," said the smart young man, pulling out a roll.

"No; I don't want to rob you. Get the dictionary."

The money was put up and Webster's International brought out. There it was, "q-u-i-r-e, to sing in concert."

"I didn't mean a verb," said the smart young man, growing white around the ears. "Where is the noun?"

They found that, too, although it was marked obsolete. Then the smart young man wilted.

"I won't take your money," said the red bearded man, handing back the bills. "My name is Bell, George T. Bell. I have had educational advantages which you probably never received, and I spent several months learning the different ways to spell that word. Several years ago I was on the secret service. My partner and I had been on the trail of a pair of sharpers who had a repertory of 'con' games that would have made the ordinary bunko man look sick. They were men of far more than ordinary intelligence and had the manners of cultured men of the world. The way we happened to get them was a pure accident.

"My partner and I were going down from St. Louis on a Mississippi river packet. There were about 20 of us in the smoking room talking and trying to pass the time comfortably. Just as a lull came in the hum of conversation a young man seated at a table writing some letters looked up with a troubled air and said, 'Could any of you gentlemen tell me how to spell "choir?" I am a little puzzled over it.'

"'What kind of a one do you mean?' asked several.

"'Choir, to sing in concert,' chirped the young man, wrinkling his brow as if to recall the proper orthography.

"'C-h-o-i-r,' said a scholarly looking man with glasses on.

"'Q-u-i-r-e,' sang out a big, well fed old man off in the corner.

"'C-h-o-i-r,' repeated the first man with some emphasis. 'I thought every fool knew that.'

"'That's all right,' said the old man off in the corner. 'Money talks. I'll bet you $50 that Webster spells it "q-u-i-r-e" too.'

"'I'll raise you 50,' said the first man, who was a cotton buyer at Memphis.

"'All right,' said the big old man coolly. Then the others joined in and bet him to a standstill. They put up about $500. Then they got the dictionary, and, as just now, the man who bet on 'q-u-i-r-e' won.

"My partner and I waited till the money had changed hands, and then I said, 'Come on, Si.'

"I walked up to the young man and said: 'Come with me; I want you. I'll show you how to spell choir. Si collared the big old man and we waltzed them down below. You never saw two fellows look quite so cheap. They had cleaned up over $15,000 on that one trick, but they got four years and a half apiece. That is one spelling school I have attended that not every man goes to. That game is one which will catch nine educated men out of ten. You are all right, but you may still have something to learn."

Then the smart young man offered the usual invitation in payment for the information.—Washington Post.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Prof. Coe, chief musician First North Carolina volunteers and director of the band, has recently published a march, entitled "The Tarheel March," which is meeting with great success; and while it has only been in print about three weeks, it has already found its way through a large part of the state, and deservedly so. It should be in every home, and before another month will be circulated and known from Murphy to Wilmington. Some believe it is destined to rank alongside of "The Old North State" as a favorite among Tarheels.

It will be sold in the audience tonight by a Cuban boy and members of the band, as will also the souvenir book of the First regiment, which contains the pictures of each company, all the officers, and camp scenes from every location where they camped during the Spanish-American war, including more than fifty Cuban scenes.
